Frequently Asked Questions

When will I be able to visit and see my youth during their stay at Leland?

There are several different opportunities to see your youth during their stay. First, you'll be asked to attend weekly family therapy sessions. Your youth can also be given approved therapeutic passes on the weekends. Second, we designate times for parents/caregivers and visitors to come to Leland and spend time with their youth.

Virtual family therapy and visits are also available if in person visits/sessions are not possible.

Will my youth be able to continue their schooling while at Leland?

Leland House has an approved Fairfax County Public School site on premises. Leland House School employs Fairfax County teachers, who work together with school guidance counselors to ensure students can continue with their academics and many of their same registered classes while staying at Leland. Additionally, school support staff will work with each student's base school to ensure a smooth transition back after discharge.

What is the difference between a Lead Case Manager and Intensive Care Coordinator?

A Lead Case Manager (LCM) is your family's county assigned case manager. The LCM serves as your link to the county and has knowledge of available resources. Your LCM will assist in making referrals to services and accessing funding. The Intensive Care Coordinator facilitates the High Fidelity Wraparound process. This means they will help your family identify its needs based on your strengths and culture, and facilitate meetings among service providers to come up with a plan on how to assist your family in achieving your goals.

Why am I being asked to complete a Medicaid application if I have private insurance?

Completing a Medicaid application is a requirement of Leland House admission. Once a youth is placed outside the home for more than 30 days the state views them as a "Family of One," and would base financial eligibility off of the youth's income (most commonly qualifying them for Medicaid based insurance at that time).
